A Man Who Won't Write Letters.

That a man can successfully conduct a vast business for a number of years without writing or signing a letter seems to be incredible in this age of universal letter writing, but it is said that J. Edward Addicks, the gas mag-nate of Delaware, who is president of a dozen corporations, never writes or signs a communication of any descrip-

Some years ago Mr. Addicks, according to the story, wrote a hasty letter to an old friend and business associate; but, by some fortunate accident, it was not mailed. The next day the injustice of the letter was so strongly impressed upon his mind that he vowed that he would never write another letter.

would never write another letter.

He has telephones in each of his four homes, in those of all his confidential agents and employees and in the private offices of all of the many corpora-tions with which he is identified, and all are paid for by him personally, and all are supposed to be for his exclusive use. His secretary conducts all of the usual correspondence of his office.

no use for the whining, sentimental girl, but believes that our girls should be brought up to give and take the hard knocks of life which a false system attempts to reserve for masculinity alone.
On the other hand, Mrs. Tweedle beplores the masculine tendency in the modern girl and sums up her whole contention in the query, "Is it not better to make a home and its inmates comfortable than to win a tennis cup?"

Comfortable than to win a tennis cup?"

"It is with a good deal of pleasure and satisfaction that I recommend Chamber-iain's Colic cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Druggist A. W. Sawtelle, of Hartford, Conn. "A lady customer, seeing the remedy exposed for sale on my show case, said to me: 'I really believe that medicine saved my life the past summer while at the shore,' and she became so enthusiastic over its merits that I at once made up my mind to recommend it in the future. Recently a gentleman came into my store so overcome with colic pains that he sank at once to the floor. I gave him a dose of this remedy which helped him. I repeated the dose and in fifteen minutes he left my store soilcited References—Fidelity and Deposit Co., of Baltimore, Citizens' National Bank, Alexandria, and Mercantile Agency.

There is quite a stir in England because of the ewspaper discussion between the Duchess of Sutherland and Mrs. Alec Tweedle on the question of training children, especially girls. The duchess in The Saturday Review instruction of the largest rooms should be furnished in strain accordance with its purpose, and no room should more pre-eminently designed in promom Whatever its decorations, they should be simple and chaste. All its pictures should be of an associative and not of a comparative character; wherefore it is that designs of fruit, fish, game or the like are never in particularly good taste. Geers is the greatest driver and trainer in the United States, although the opinion exists in some quarters that George H. Ketcham, owner, breeder, trainer and driver of Cresceus, 2:02%, is his equal. Ketcham's career, however, has been pursued along different lines than that of Geers, the latter hav-ing had more actual training and driving experience than any other man in

New College Strong Man.
The remarkable strength test record of N. W. Willard of the School of Philosophy, Columbia, in the university gymnasium is still the talk of the college world, where physical develop-ment is regarded as quite as important as a knowledge of humanity and as a glimmering of Greek.

Willard scored 1,827, eclipsing the former record held by Harold Weekes of Columbia by 118 points. Here are Willard's comparative tests
